This is to confirm that the undersigned has agreed to participate in the American Society of Baking’s program described above.

As part of its continuing education efforts, the ASB occasionally records its programs and makes those audio and video recordings, and/or edited transcriptions thereof, available to its members and other professionals interested in the topics being covered. We are therefore requesting your permission to record, edit, transcribe, duplicate, and perform your presentation delivered at this program, in any and all media now existing or hereafter developed, throughout the world, provided, however, that you shall retain the absolute right, in your sole discretion, to revoke such permission for any reason at any time upon written notice to ASB.

As a condition of publication and for no monetary compensation, we further request the nonexclusive worldwide rights to reproduce, distribute, and sell any written or visual material submitted in connection with your oral presentation, in whole or in part, in any media, as part of a course book, program web page or any other publication published under the auspices of the ASB and to license these rights to others, provided, however, that you shall retain the absolute right, in your sole discretion, to revoke such rights for any reason at any time upon written notice to ASB. We shall have the right to edit a transcript of your presentation, provided, however, that any such edits shall be subject to your express prior written approval. All presentations and materials related to said presentation may become available on-demand to attendees through the virtual conference platform.

You also grant the ASB the right to use your name and voice, and, if we so choose, your photograph and biography, in connection with the presentation and other materials, provided, however, that any such use shall be subject to your express prior written approval. As a speaker you agree to be featured on the ASB BakingTECH webpages and the virtual conference platform in the speaker directories.

As a speaker you are expected to interact with the audience by engaging and encouraging them to participate in any Q&A sessions, however, please be mindful of the time and answer questions as swiftly as possible.

ASB will be promoting all speakers through our social media channels. As a presenter, and if you have social media accounts, it is recommended that you engage with any posts as they relate to your participation in BakingTECH (ie, like a post, retweet, share, etc)

You warrant that your presentation and any other material you submit are original with you, that their publication will not infringe on the rights of others, and that you have full power to grant this license. Should your presentation or other materials require permission for use by the ASB, you agree to obtain that permission from the copyright proprietor consistent with this Agreement.

If the foregoing terms are satisfactory, please sign and date this agreement below and return to tbrydebell@asbe.org. Execution of this Agreement does not obligate the ASB to publish your presentation or other materials.

I hereby consent to the use of my presentation and other materials as described and agree with the provisions of this release form:
